[illegible] appeared be his [illegible] practi-
[illegible] of twentie zeiris past, and maist spec[illegible]ly lie a [illegible] in the zeir of God 1596. quhairin sa greit a prouision wes maid [illegible]quest,
[illegible] thame that was necessary, not only for helping thame to ouercome, [illegible]lewise
[illegible] there, after their victory, as nomberis of Monks, Fryars, Preists, and [illegible]ntes of [illegible] corrupted Religion, and also Wines, Barnis, with all kind of Houshold gear, [illegible] plen-[illegible].

[illegible] God of his infinite gudenes, be his michtie power, and na wayes be the arme [illegible]an, to [illegible]rous interpryse at that time, making the windes his messengers, to scatter and [illegible]y that [illegible]aration for Conquest: zit wes not this ouerthrow in ony wayes diminished the said [illegible]gs co-
[illegible]rue from his former attempts, bot be the contrary, the gretnes of his losse, wes sa [illegible]oned [illegible] of reuenge, as he wes euer sensyne bendit his haill wittis, and imployed all his powe[illegible]ow to [illegible] greitest faird Ineuitable to all his eniunies, and for that cause wes he appointed this [illegible]t sum-
[illegible]od of time for perfyting of that greit purpose.

[illegible]erill this his pretendit conquest, in case it succeedit (as God forbid) micht cary with it to the estate
[illegible]e it to the consideration of ony Scottis-man, that is not blindit with his buddis, how sa greit and [illegible], of nature, euer gifen to conquering, professing zea the onely patrone of that tyrannique & bludy
[illegible]ctly oppositte to that truth, quhilk in the greit mercies of God we professe, can becum our greatest [illegible]dit by Seas, or any vther impediment, without the eminent hazard of our vtter thraldom, baith
[illegible] subuersion of our Crowne and Estate, and the redacting of this haill Nation (sa lang [illegible]ere) in [illegible]. The accustom it fortune of all the Cuntries that are be force brocht vnder his dominioun
[illegible]deration of this sa greit and imminent perrell mouued vs of laite, not onely by publicke [illegible]procla-
[illegible]me all our gude subiects hereof, To command them to be in a readines, and for that [illegible]se to [illegible]er vpon the secund of Februarie nixt, but besides that, to haue taken, as we daily take [illegible]mair
[illegible]rsou, for reforming the lang disordrit estate of our Cuntrie, alwel be restoring the due [illegible] and [illegible] law, in punishing of the Hornaris and al vthers is contempnars thairof, as by giuing ordour for a-
[illegible]ng out be the roote, the haill disordrit deadly feids and bludy eniunities within our re[illegible]e, A
[illegible] to this onely Cuntrie hes euer bene miserably subiect, as ane abuse not knowne or named [illegible] ony
[illegible] the world. To the end, that hauing once our haill kingdome be this meanes brocht fully [illegible]nder
[illegible] peace and quietnes amangst themselues, we micht be the mair able to resist the common e[illegible]mie,
[illegible]t only defend our so ancient liberties, bot micht all like wayes concurre with our Neighbours
[illegible]ing of this Ile from the tyranny of Strangers.

[illegible]ce of all people is sik, and specially of the people of our awin Nation: That although they ap-
[illegible] deiply ony imminent danger that thay are forewarned of: zit lang Intermissioun of time [illegible]lis
[illegible] their former zealous feruencie to turne in a sluggish slawnes. Thairfoir seeing God [illegible] ap-
[illegible] greit Captaine of our people in time of weire, as their Gouernor in time of peace. It [illegible] our [illegible] Allarum quhen time serues: That al our gude subiects may in due time be vpon thair [illegible]dis
[illegible]e of new againe, to waken thame vp by this our present Proclamatioun, renewing [illegible]eby
[illegible]mmaunding expressly be thir presents, all our good subiects, as thay tender the weill of [illegible]air
[illegible]es, and the libertie thairof, our obedience, the liberty and saifetie of the haill common [illegible]lth
[illegible]uts, Barnis and Families of euery ane of thame in particular: That on the ane side, [illegible]ay
[illegible]ions by Musters, or otherwayes according as our former Proclamations hes [illegible]ed
[illegible] other part, that thay rander sic due reuerence and obedience vnto the Law, as becomes [illegible]de
[illegible]ning thair bale and barbarous particular quarrels, to the honourable and worthy [illegible]iect
[illegible]es inuid a princely bow, neuer to cease while we haue that barbaritie of feidis vtter[illegible]er-
[illegible]ame party againis al and quhatsumeuer that dare oppone thameselues to that gude [illegible]der [illegible]t errand. Let vs abhorre the beastly Indianis, whose vnworthy particulers made the [illegible]ay [illegible]ubuersion & slauery vnder the Spanzeartis, and let vs preasse to resemble the worthy ancient [illegible]erred thair commonwelth to thair awin particulars, bot euen to thair awin proper [illegible]es.
[illegible]ame amongst his vther politique deuises, for aduancing of this his interpryse, hes [illegible]ett-
[illegible] and practiquit diuers of our vnruly borderers, vnder pretext of ald inimities and [illegible]ig
[illegible]ous, To make opin Incursions be way of hostilitie vpon our neichtbour cuntry, and [illegible] staying of our cõmon concurrance against the common enemie. OVR WILL IS [illegible] and commaundis: That incontinent thir our Letters sene zee pas, and in our [illegible] charge, first in general all our subiects, Inhabitants of our bordours, not only [illegible]ity against the opposit bordours of England, but farder to maintene, and in-
[illegible]our towardis thame, that happy amitie inuiolably continued betwixt vs
[illegible] our Raignes, as the neirnes of blude betwixt our two Persons, The [illegible] of Amitie that can binde trew Christians) and the likenes in lan-
[illegible]ng all the contrauenaris heirof, That thay sall be repute & haldin [illegible] the trew Religioun and estate of their native King and Cuntrie, and [illegible]ects. And in speciall, That zee commaund and charge the Wardens & [illegible] England, To take diligent care and trauell euery ane within thair awin of-[illegible]rge, that quietnes & gude neichtbrehed with England may precisely be keipit [illegible]e and punish als carefully & rigorously the insolence of the contrauenars heirof, as [illegible]ted vpon our awin subiects: As thay will answer to vs vpon thair offices and vp[illegible]eal that heirupon may ensew: And that they make the opposite Wardens and Of-[illegible] acquainted with our order and intention in the premisse, as zee will answer to vs thair-
[illegible] committ to you conjunctly & seuerally our full power be thir our Letters, delinering them [illegible]positte againe to the bearer. Gewin vnder our Signet, and subscriuit with our hand: At [illegible] of Ianuare: And of our Reigne the 29. zeir, 1595.

SIC SVBSCRIBITVR.

Iames R.

[illegible] Robert Walde-graue, Printer to the Kingis Maiestie. 1596.